with
the rising of the sun
the day takes on a new frenzy;
the world around us
awakens at last
to envision the possibilities that come
with this new day —
a sensitivity to silence;
the discovery of fresh beauty;
a comprehension of things previously misunderstood;
an awareness
of one's true identity;
a means of self-expression never before realized;
the "on-target" communication of our ideas with others;
the mastering of a skill which to date has been so evasive.
for [illegible] ill come today, for others [illegible] a matter of time . . .

the ability to communicate is a goal which we all seek to obtain. it is the close kinship between a father and his son; the relationship between

oneself and the mind;

the secure feeling of being together.

our search for identity begins with the contemplation of our past experiences;

the moment comes when being alone is more important than being with others;

it is just a matter of time until our seemingly endless search is ended,

and

our true identity is realized.

a skill is mastered
through sincere dedication, repeated practice and time. with the conquest of the unknown comes a true sense
of accomplishment, for it is only through disappointment that we learn
to appreciate
our successes.

we have met the challenge of mastering a skill;

realized who we are

and where we are going;

expressed our feelings

so that others can understand our intent.

a new sense of freedom is felt

and happiness

and contentment are found

as we realize,

it was just a matter of time . . .

for some of us,

responsibility, participation and achievement

will come today;

for others,

it's just a matter of time . . .

Student Body Officers Led Western Students Through a Busy School Year

student body officers served with dedication and enthusiasm throughout the year, involving themselves in all phases of campus activities.

as wmc student body president, jo ann gygax tackled a heavy work load. in jo ann's absence, vice president, barry grace, assumed her duties. miki bates served as secretary with the exception of winter quarter when jody genger was chosen to fill in for her.

Central Board and ICC, Western's Governing Bodies

the 1970-71 chinook staff created an annual which fully covers a year's activity at western. editor trudee capehart and co-editor julie tomkins relinquished their positions spring quarter to carol mc dermid and mary alyce devine, and all four girls put in a tremendous amount of hard work and imaginative talent to make the chinook a success.

western students find diversified outlets for their abundant energy in the various athletic organizations existing on campus, among which are ski club, rodeo club, and the women's recreation association. here, breaking a leg in a skiing accident, getting bucked off a wild bronc, or having an unexpected encounter with a baseball are just all in a day's work (fun?)!

each of these clubs remains very active throughout the year, providing welcome recreation for the members and enjoyable entertainment for everyone.

veterans of foreign wars and others who attend western under the gi bill form the vet club membership.

the vets are active supporters of a wide range of campus activities. proceeds from such projects as the megaphone sale pictured go towards the purchase of a pep bus for the student body.

Spurs and Circle K Work

western's spurs serve and represent the college with pep and group unity. pictured below are rayleen pike, kathy desy, arlene bremer, maureen sullivan, carole homan, president debi kegel, mary carol la palm, denise smith, iola anglin, bonnie gould, max hankins, karen knight, anita wise, jenny cuddy, mary lou egan, junior advisor jo ann gygax, and kathy scott. missing are sue hardaway, jody genger, and marjie haynes.

another year has passed for the associated women students of wmc. in it we've laughed and cried together, sharing our hopes and fears, our dreams and disillusionments. we've learned to give as well as to take, and though the lesson was often hard, looking back, we realize that we've each grown up a little.

Band, Chorus, Gargoyles, and Vocal Ensemble Entertain the Masses

"Any man's death diminishes me because I am involved in mankind."

John Donne

clubs, students, and interested community members said "we care" by participating in western's walk for mankind. initiated by the spurs and involving campus and community organizations, the walk enabled those involved to donate approximately $3500 to project concern's hospital in bisti, new mexico. the walk was a successful and satisfying experience which gave a new dimension to the meaning of the word "mankind."

FIGHT TO

for some of us,

spirit, excitement and happiness

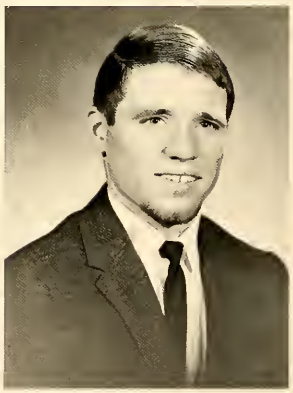
will come today;

for others,

it's just a matter of time . . .

Eighteen Western Students

the recipient of two advanced honor scholarships, edwin armstrong is a member and 1970 president of science club. he has a minor in social sciences, a major in biology, and helped to construct the me day program.



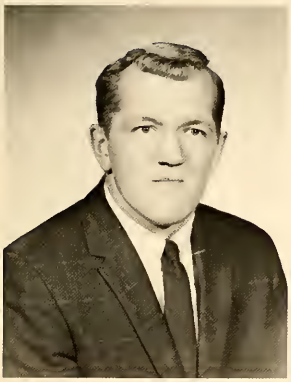
tom hoover, an active participant in western sports, was co-captain of the football team and received a football scholarship. tom is also involved in track, baseball, and golf. he is a social science and p.e. major.

a cheerleader for western, linda kramer was chosen homecoming queen of 1969, circle k sweetheart, secretary kzn, and was a candidate for miss western. she was also in spurs, and is a member of wra, aws, pemm club, newman club, and has served on the judiciary board. linda has a double major in p.e. and business.

val prophet has majors in art and business. he is a member of kappa pi and a recipient of an advanced honor scholarship.

on the basis of academic achievement, service to the college community, leadership in extra curricular activities, and future potential, the students pictured on this and the following pages were chosen to represent themselves and wmc in who's who in american colleges and universities.

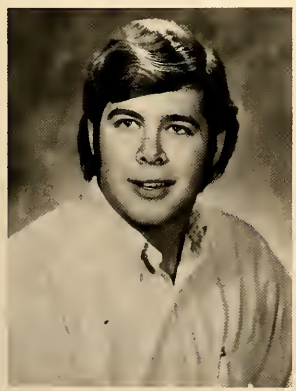
Rate High Among Who's Who



hannes boundy, recipient of an advanced honor scholarship, is also a varsity member of the track and football teams. he has been pres. of m-club, senior class pres., sports editor of the "chinook", a member of chanticleers, the men's judiciary board, and has served on the intramural board.

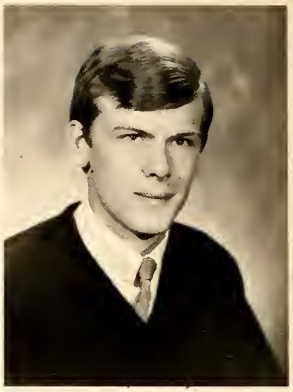
a transfer from the university of redlands, trudee capehart christensen is the co-editor of the 1971 "chinook." trudee was a homecoming queen candidate and chosen second runner-up for miss western. she is also very active in newman club.

betty jo dellwo has been active in many student affairs. she has been treasurer of pemm club, secretary and vice president of spurs, on the judiciary board, central board, a representative-at-large, and in newman club. joey has received the "spur of the moment award" and the cobb foundation scholarship.



ken taylor has served as freshman class president, representative-at-large, social dance chairman, and feature editor of the "wescolite." he has been a college lifeguard, a member of the curriculum committee, ski club, nra, and the bowling league.

roger mc conchie, the editor of the "wescolite," is also the president of gargoyles, has served as representative-at-large and has been a member of circle k international.



a physical education and english major, cyrene buxton has taken part in many of the activities offered at westernettes. she was also a volved in wra, pemm club, ski club, gargoyles, and wesernettes. she was also a reporter for the "wescolite", and a candidate for miss western.

steve wilson has majors in biology and english, and has received the advanced honor scholarship. steve has served as sophomore class vice president, junior class president, and served on the central board.

linda morris is an accomplished actress who has had many roles in the school's plays. linda, a transfer student from tech, has majors in art and english. she is a member of art club, ski club, forensics, gargoyles, and is the recipient of the faculty women's scholarship.

john ries, a transfer student from tech, is an excellent actor who has taken lead roles in numerous plays at western. john has also become involved in the vets club, in which he has been vice president. he has also been in gargoyles and on the staff of the "wescolite".

barry grace, an english and social studies major, has been active throughout his years at western. he has been a member of circle k, intercollegiate knights, gargoyles, m club and vice president of aswmc.

kathleen tayne, a scholar and artist, has been the recipient of two advanced honor scholarships, and mary baker emerick, and mary marjerrison scholarships. she has been involved with the art club, sea, kappa pi, and is the 1970 editor of the "muse."

the 1971 co-editor of the "chinook", julia tomkins has a major in elementary education and a minor in social science. julia is also an active member of sea.

michale bates, an elemtary education and p.e. major, has been the recipient of an advanced honor scholarship, the jane buttrey memorial scholarship, and the american assn. of university women scholarship. she has been active in spurs, kzn, wra, sea, and judiciary board. miki has been sophomore class president, representative-at-large, aswmc secretary, and 1st runner-up for miss western.

an all-conference football player and co-captain of the 1970 team, john thatcher has received a scholarship for football. he has also played baseball for western and was an all-conference player in 1969.

Presentation of Royalty Highlights

The crowning point of the evening was the presentation of Miss Cynde Hartsell, Homecoming Queen for 1970.

homecoming 1970 began early this year with the classics iv concert.

the highpoint of the homecoming activities was the presentation of royalty. six lovely young ladies vied for the crown of homecoming queen. the candidates were maxine hankins, aws; donna bergeron, freshman class; cynde hartsell, m club; iola anglin, sophomore class; trudee capehart, junior class; and miki bates, senior class.

the thrill of the evening was the relinquishing of the crown by the 1969 homecoming queen, linda kramer, to cynde hartsell, homecoming queen for 1970.

Iola graciously receives her first-runner-up trophy from Jacki Glenney, Miss Western, 1970.

Homecoming Festivities

Halftime entertainment was the presentation of royalty.

Backstage the candidates and their escorts anxiously await the coronation.

During halftime, Queen Cynde and her court were presented. Princesses were Trudee Capehart, Maxine Hankins, Iola Anglin, Miki Bates and Donna Bergeron.

"Age of Aquarius" Is Kicked — saturday's events began with the parade. the winner for the best float was the junior class.

the big winner, however, was the mighty bulldogs with their defeat over the carroll college saints.

homecoming was concluded with the enthusiastic feeling that "we're the bulldogs — we're proud."

All-Conference tackle Denny Renning is enthralled in the game.

Off By Bulldog Victory

Fullback Ron Lehnerz runs for a first and ten before he is tackled by a Carroll player. Assisting Ron on this play are teammates Blake Sevalstad, Dan Gilman, and Mark Brehm.

W.M.C. cheerleaders Connie, Shele, Maureen, Karin and Sandi, give Bulldog mascot "Charge" and Student Body President Jo Anne Gygax a hand as they are introduced at the coronation.

Men's Liberation Movement also vied for the queen honors with their candidate, Dave Beatty.

Dramatic Ability Comes to Life

the gargoyle club of western montana college outdid itself in the production of "come blow your horn" and "death of a salesman" the summer and fall plays.

"come blow your horn" is a comedy centered around harry baker, owner of a large artificial fruit business, and his two sons. One of his sons is a 33-year-old playboy while the younger, who is 21, is just trying to find himself in our complex world.

buddy, once an obedient son, moves away from home into an apartment with his older brother leaving a rebellious note behind as means of explanation. the complications that occur make for an extremely enjoyable play.

on the serious side was the fall production, "death of a salesman." it is a drama dealing with the last days of a salesman. Willy, through soul-seeking revelations of the past, is trying to discover where he went wrong in achieving the success and happiness he has wanted.

right: approaching mr. wagner, willy encounters defeat in a final attempt to retain his job.

far right: uncle ben is the center of attention in this scene which leads up to the climax of the play. standing beside willy are his wife, linda, and sons, biff and happy.

below: is a scene which shows the turning point of the play which occurs when biff realizes his father's weakness.

far bottom: is the final scene in the play; the death of willy lowman. around the grave are his family and friends.

"everyman," shown winter quarter, is a 15th century morality play. it dealt with everyman being called to his final reckoning with God before he had time to prepare himself. everyman tried to persuade fellowship, kindred and cousin, worldly goods, knowledge, five wits, strength, discretion, and beauty to journey to death with him. however, none will go. only the good deeds he has done on earth can redeem him.

spring quarter, the gargoyles presented two plays. they were entitled "winners" and "losers", and were centered around the topics of love and happiness.

it has been said that love is for the young and in the case of "winners", this seemed to be true. it concerned itself with the life of two teenagers who are in love. together they study, because joe has a strong regard for higher education, and mag has a strong regard for joe.

as the beautiful love scene progresses, it becomes evident that the couple will be in a fatal accident. although their lives will end young, "what you love eternally, is eternally yours." mag and joe are as the title suggests, "winners."

love can also come to older couples, but in the case of losers there were too many obstacles in the ways of their finding love and happiness. although they live longer, they just go through the motions of being happy and are in reality "losers."

bottom: bulldog spirit is not dampened after a narrow defeat by eastern.

Miss Western

each year the people of dillon and the students at wmc look forward to the miss western pageant. this year was no exception. eight girls were eligible for this title, but only one could receive the esteemed honor. this year the one lucky girl was vickie bowman.

judging was based on personality, talent and beauty. being co-winner of the congeniality trophy and winner of the talent trophy definitely qualified miss bowman for the title miss western.

far right: vickie bowman is surprised and happy at the announcement that she is miss western 1971.

Candidates Are in "Colorful Carrousel" of Splendor

Miss Western Candidates Skillfully Display Various Talents

fifty percent of the judges final decision in choosing miss western is based on talent. this year the talent had a wide range of categories. it was evident that each girl had worked long and hard in perfecting her particular talent.

right: sue hardaway's dramatic reading on ecology not only held the complete attention of the audience, but left each individual wondering if the pollution problem was due to him.

far right: the reigning miss western, jackie glenney made her final appearance in a dramatic reading from "anne of a thousand days" bringing to close a very eventful year in jackie's life. before turning over her crown, jackie stated, "tonight i close a chapter in my life, one i hope to reopen and read many times."

right: every girl has a dream and vicki christensen was no exception. she portrayed a doll in a toy shop and her dream became reality when she was changed into a real little girl.

far right: denise smith exemplified her ten years of background in music with her piano presentation of "polichenelle."

far left: vickie bowman, who received the talent award, was outstanding in her vocal selections from the movie "oliver."

below: joan delgor illustrated the ability of every woman to be well-dressed simply by using a sewing machine and some originality to create a basic wardrobe.

bottom left: iola anglin proved she was "an all american girl" by giving a recitation of an original poem demonstrating her various abilities.

far bottom: the rights and wrongs of grammar were presented by ruth vannoy in a dramatic comedy.

Various Traditional Activities

each year a variety of activities take place here at western which have come to be regarded as tradition. a few of these are sadie hawkins, "go western" and the christmas formal. this year a few changes were made concerning these days. sadie hawkins remained the same as can be seen in the picture below as clay robinson, miki bates, bill nokes and linda tomasini take time to pose for a picture.

the christmas formal was changed to a winter formal this year.

due to a conference ruling an official "go western" day was not held this year. despite this fact the spirit and enthusiasm that generally go with "that day" was still present.

bottom: the crowd expresses delight for a basket by the bulldogs in the final seconds of the game.

Take Place at Western

the tradition of various activities continues at wmc in many forms.

the carnival was sponsored by the junior class this year. a few events which drew much attention were the sponge-throwing and dunking pool.

right: pam strupp feels the chill of the water as she splashes into the pool.

opposite page: top: mary lou egan waits for the wet sponge to hopefully miss its target.

m day as usual consisted of fun and work for all. early morning activities included a clean-up of the campus grounds.

below: vicki blunn and glory blood work hard to complete their work before afternoon activities begin.

opposite page: far right: faculty members also take part in m day. mr. walters and mr. jesse gather rakes before they begin work.

m club plays an important role at western. initiation is important and the auction of future m clubbers, as they are dressed in feminine attire, draws much attention.

on the w.m.c. campus many activities are continually taking place which help add to the pleasure of college life.

right: ken taylor and coleen lazzari head for the nearest ski slope to enjoy a day on the hills.

below: also enjoying the pleasure of living in the snow-world of dillon are ruth vannoy, carola woolsey, sue mackie, and connie huffield as they take part in a refreshing snowball fight.

bottom right: turning to the more romantic aspect of campus life, brenda meredith is the center of attention at her candlelighting to announce her engagement to randy dorington.

Students Enjoy Various Activities Around Campus

left: a scene which is becoming more familiar to the students is the pool room, in its first year of existence at w.m.c. jon konen looks on as manager steve day completes one of his skillful shots.

below: and of course when considering activities around campus, the friday afternoon "ice cream social" must also be considered. This particular "ice cream social" is a hay ride which was sponsored by the rodeo club. it was an event which found several w.m.c. students taking time from studies to enjoy themselves.

Big Name Entertainment

western montana college was privileged with the representation of two groups, both of which were highly talented.

fall quarter the classics iv entertained with their distinct acid-rock sound.

the nitty gritty dirt band proved a complete success winter quarter with their comic-filled concert.

above: he, him, & me, traveling with the classics iv, stole the show with their renditions of songs in varied fields of music.

right: while at w.m.c. dennis yost and the classics iv delighted students with many enjoyable selections from their wide variety of hit tunes.

Enraptures W. M. C. Students

left: performing on the w. m. c. stage the dirt band never let a dull moment enter into their concert.

below: before the curtain rises two members of the band are observed carefully tuning their instruments.

far left: bonnie gould rides in royalty as she bears the title of miss wmc rodeo queen 1971.

left: johnny france, a skilled rodeoer, displays his skill as he rides a saddle bronc.

below: vicki kieckbusch rounds her second barrel in the barrel-racing event.

SEVENTY-FOURTH ANNUAL

COMMENCEMENT

Gather at Commencement

young and old gathered at the seventy-fourth annual commencement at western montana college. a reunion of the class of 1921 coincided with the commencement exercises.

stan lynde was the commencement speaker this year.

the class of 1921 was honored at a tea at the residence of president and mrs. short. they were also honorerd at a reunion dinner.

the classes of 1919, 1920, 1922, and 1923 were also present.

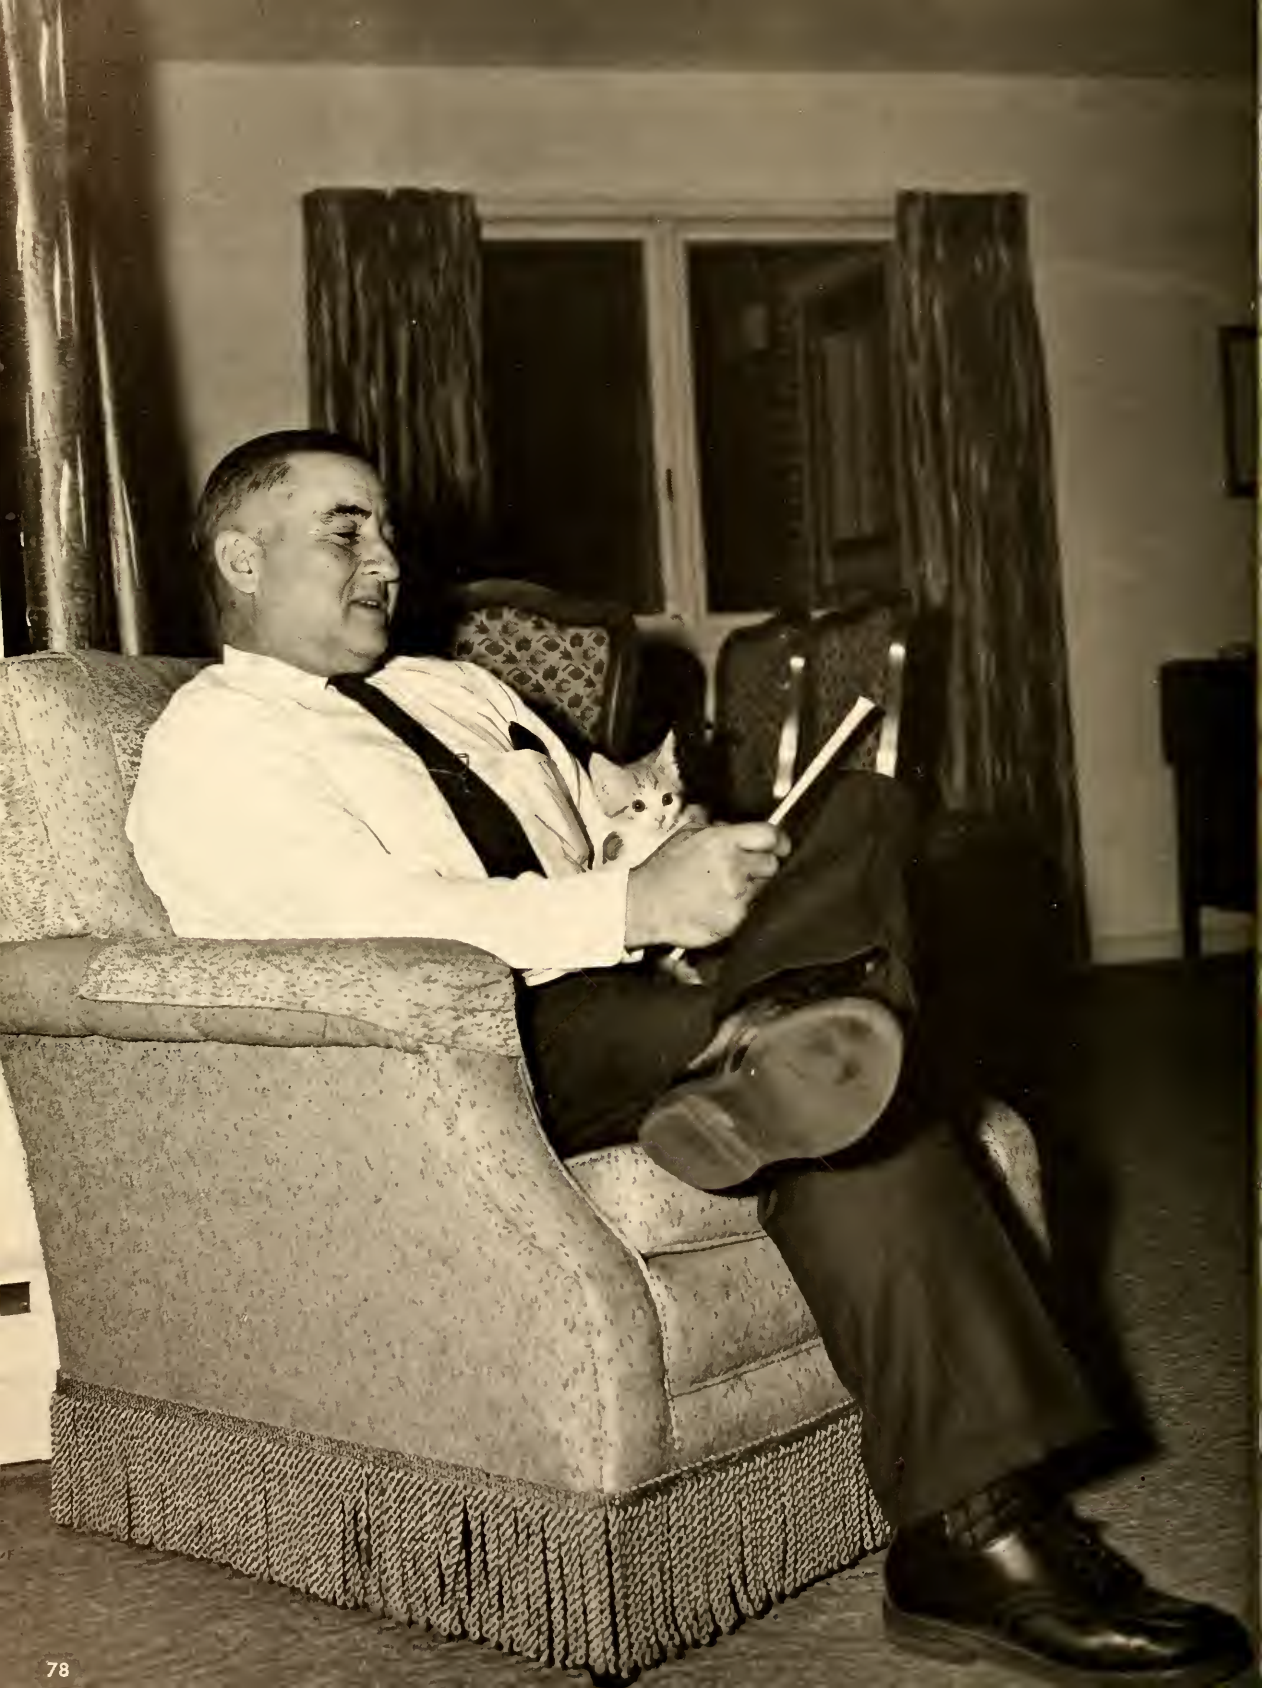
for some of us,

knowledge, discovery and leadership

will come today;

for others,

it's just a matter of time . . .



President Short Enjoys a Quiet Evening at Home

each chinook is different because each represents a different year and different people. each is better than all others to those personally involved in its pages. there is also a commonality wherein each is derived from those gone before and patterns those coming after. this volume is another milestone among many in the history of the institution. We are all proud to have a part in it now and will continue to be proud as the now becomes the then, for as surely as yesterday was once today then both today and tomorrow will also become yesterdays. this chinook is our bridge to the past.

james e. short

longevity of service—particularly in educational circles—is not a relatively unique nor earth-shaking achievement and oftimes commands little other than passing mention. Only when it is replete with excellence, loyalty and accomplishment does longevity become meaningful in its truest sense.

professor ralph mc fadden, during his 47 years with the music department at western montana college, epitomizes the professional teacher at his finest. whether in the classroom, caressing the keys of his piano, or informally among friends, his quiet dignity and precise logic communicated itself in a rare and enduring manner. he prevails, almost like "old main" itself, stately and indestructible amidst victories and defeats a monumental man for all seasons.

professor mc fadden demanded and received—perfection, both of himself and of those thousands whom he instructed during that half-century service. and, in so doing, he inspired young people to rise above themselves, to be infinitely better than they had previously aspired.

his decision to retire at the end of this 1970-71 academic year, concluding a career unparalleled in w.m.c. history, creates a void which time nor change can never fully compensate. For his was the most noble profession, the shaping of young minds, and the influence of ralph mc fadden shall forever permeate this campus and that most critical field which we call education.

and so, on behalf of all those young scholars from 1924 to 1971: thank you, professor, for guiding us toward a better world.

In Memoriam

robert d. scott

we scarcely knew him . . . he was with us only one short week, the week of freshman orientation, and then he had to go.

robert scott, son of professor and mrs. daniel c. scott, died in a car accident the weekend of freshman orientation. we hardly knew him but some of us were deeply affected by his death. he was so full of life and eager to live every moment. perhaps God had a higher plane for rob to live on. someday we will know.

the Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.

he maketh me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still waters.

he restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake yea, though i walk through the valley of the shadow of death, i will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and i will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Bulldogs Bow in Quest

western 10 ricks 7

a rugged defense provided the dogs with their first win over the vikings from rexberg in five years. the fumble and penalty-clogged contest was not decided until the final minutes. the scoring was handled by ron lehnerz with a touchdown, and lynn stonelake, whose toe produced an extra point and a 20-yard field goal.

western 21 snow 0

the dogs' offense struck early and often in the first half, building up a 21-0 lead. it then coasted home in the second half. lehnerz led the scoring with two touchdowns, and fairman added a third. stonelake booted three extra points.

western 38 treasure valley 26 trailing 20-10 early in the third quarter, the dogs, with the help of two fumbled punts, were able to defeat a determined crew from ontario, oregon.

western 31 rocky 15

the dogs rebounded from an early bear touchdown to win its 11th game in a row. rocky, much underrated, fought desperately but were outmanned by the more experienced dogs. scoring for the dogs were rhodes, sabo, lucero and fairman. stonelake added four extra points and a field goal.

western 20 northern 0

after a very dull first half in which they were held scoreless, the dogs finally overcame a stubborn northern ball club. leading the second half burst was lehnerz with two touchdowns.

western 42 carroll 0

the dogs celebrated homecoming in fine tradition by blasting a highly regarded carroll college off the field in the second half. lehnerz again led the scoring with four touchowns. dan gilman and earl daege added one each, while stonelake booted six extra points to extend his streak to 19 for the year.

western 28 tech 29

after 13 straight victories, the dogs ventured to butte to meet the unbeaten orediggers. after falling behind 14-0 and 21-7, the dogs rallied to take the lead 28-21 in the fourth quarter. however, a determined tech offense pushed across the winning points with only 41 seconds left on the clock.

western 6 eastern 14

the dogs, still down from the previous week's loss, were stung by a fired up band of yellowjackets, who tied up the dogs' offense. stonelake provided all the points with his toe.

Tom Hoover shows grit and determination as he tackles an opposing Saint player from behind.

Dennis Renning pulls in a pass from Gary Ordish, while a Saint tackler moves in.

for Fourteenth Victory

Lynn Stonelake puts his toe into the ball as a Saint player tries to block his attempted P.A.T.

Harry Egan, clutching a Rocky ball carrier, is about to receive additional help from Al Cutler and Hiram Williams.

All-Conference Players Lead Bull

Teamwork Helps to Bring the inability to shoot a good percentage from the charity line caused many problems for the bulldogs this year. the bulldogs were led in scoring by soph. john weeks, who scored 589 points for a 21.8 game average. meanwhile, charlie hall, led the rebounding scene with 490 for an average of 15.8 a game. with the return of all the team members, with the exception of john marks, senior, the bulldogs should improve their 16-11 record of this year.

Girls' Gymnastic Team Does Well in Competition

the 70-71 edition of the western montana college gymnastics team was led by sophomore, maxine hankins. the team performed well against strong competition through the entire year, thus giving coaches wallace and sheriff reason for optimism next year.

top: the five girls on the gymnastics team are from left to right: mary nelson, max hankins, janice stout, arlene hirschman, and terry henderson.

A New Competitive Sport at Western Proves to Be Successful a new competitive sport for the girls at western this year is track and field. the team did a fine job in the three meets in which it took part. again the future looks good for the girls in this area of athletics.

far page: top: mary curtis practices her form in the javelin. center: janet stout works on her glide. bottom: sandi felton practices the ever important hand off to helen hannon. left: connie else clears bar with her fosberry flop. below: bonnie morrow works to perfect her start. bottom: members of the track team relax after a practice session. they are from left to right: miss sheriff, t. lee, s. felton, m. curtis, b. heigh, janet stout, m. hankins, p. davis, h. hannon, and d. droge. seated in front are: c. else, c. huffield, janice stout, and b. morrow.

top: the baseball team for 1971 consists of l-r pat hurley, paul cutler, rick borden, jay loveless, ron nicholas, jack mcgreevy, ward sandberg, mark winans, jack rhodes, al cutler, gary howey, dave uggetti, marzelle fairman. missing are jon konen, dave crenshaw, paul greenough, kim nelson, mike dellwo, and coach john thatcher.

right: players mingle around the bench before the game gets under way.

"we hit well; our pitching was the best in the league—but our defense killed us," reminisced head coach john thatcher.

the bulldogs finished in third place with a 5-3 record. their overall record was 8-9.

the leading hitter was soph. jon konen, who had a .439 hitting average. he also led in rbi's with 12. the leading pitcher was freshman marzelle fairman, who had a 2-0 mark with an earned run average of 2.30.

top left: terry souhrada leaves runway on his way to victory in the triple jump. he now holds the school record for the event at 45 feet.

center: hiram is shown in the process of making the broad jump.

top right: terry vanderpan presses himself up to bar in an attempt to clear it. he was able to tie the school record of 13' 6" during the year.

the 71 edition of the bulldogs placed second in the conference, but they set seven new school records on the way. besides several individual records, two team marks were recorded. these were the mile relay at 3:25.4 (clucas, cox, young, and paulson); and the 440 relay at 43.2. (clucas, paulson, teegarden, and williams.)

Wrestling Comes to Western

top: members of the wrestling team are, l-r: coach ron wirtz, dan anderson, pat hurley, lloyd omsberg, charlie allen, dennis patton, kelly barrett, dave argon, dave hartman, coach rusty ruttenger. missing: john bennett, harry egan, and dan faller.

kelly appears to be in trouble against tech. opponent but he later recovered to take the match.

wrestling, perhaps one of the oldest sports, became the newest at western during the past year. from all accounts, it's here to stay.

the team compiled a 4-3 conference record, and finished 5-7 overall. the team was led by two freshmen: dave hartman 9-3-2 and lloyd omsberg 8-3-2. these two members also were runners up in the state aau freestyle meet.

"we learned a lot this year," wirtz declared, "and with some strong transfers and promising frosh joining our excellent returnee corps, prospects point toward a highly-competitive bulldog squad.

WMC BOOSTER CLUB

The WMC Booster Club, founded in 1958, has contributed almost $60,000 to the college. Through the help of the Booster Club and other such organizations during this period, Western's enrollment has grown from 429 to its present 1,042.

During the Booster Club's eleven years it has provided over 300 freshman scholarships to Western Montana College. Forty-seven such scholarships ($9,400) were granted for the 1970-71 academic year.

Recipients are selected primarily on their academic excellence and their professed desire to enter the teaching profession. Each recipient receives $200, divided over the three quarters, but high grade-point averages must be maintained to secure this aid.

Officers for the current year are: Max Nield, president; Jerry Hawkins, vice-president; Joe Lane, treasurer; Charles Stauffer, secretary.

As of December, 1970, the Booster Club had a membership of 83 which includes:

Who Paid $37,000,000 In Ten Years For Education?
We did!

Since 1960 we have contributed, through taxes alone, more than $37,000,000 to education in Montana.

We also provide scholarships to deserving students in public and private colleges. And we give money in the form of grants to schools. Our nest eggs, for example, helped start the Research Foundation at Montana State University in Bozeman.

We're interested in Montana. Our children go to school here, too.

SUPPORTING EDUCATION

Our Montana Schools and Colleges produce young men and women to play a constructive role in society.

Few people stop to realize that this output of our educational institutions is closely related to the profitable production of industry.

The production of one helps the production of the other.

Our industry is a showcase example.

About 66 per cent of the Montana taxes we pay this fiscal year will go for schools, for education. That's a whopping $6,031,761.

Sears

EVEN IN THESE NEW AND CHANGING TIMES, SOME THINGS DON'T CHANGE

. . . Such as our promise to stand behind every product we sell with our famous pledge of "Satisfaction Guaranteed or Your Money Back"—and to let you decide whether or not our merchandise or service meets your expectations;

. . . Such as our long-standing policy of always giving you the most value for your money at the lowest price possible;

. . . Such as our unceasing efforts to join with you in our community in being a good citizen—honest with ourselves and with others, proud of our heritage and confident of our future.
